

1948

PUBLIC SEMINARS

- July 16 Dr. Stanley E. Bradley, Boston University Medical School. "Human hemodynamics."
- July 23 Dr. William H. Cole, Rutgers University.
"The physiological evaluation of dietary proteins and their products."
- July 30 Dr. Warren H. Lewis, The Wistar Institute.
"The role of the superficial gel layer in the early development of eggs."
- August 6 Dr. Wilbur Robbie, University of Iowa.
"Cyanide and cellular metabolism."
- August 13 Dr. Dale R. Coman, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. "The cohesiveness of cells as a factor in the invasive growth of cancer."
- August 20 Dr. Warner Sheldon, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. "The significance of hyperemia around tumor implants."
- August 27 Dr. W. Parker Anslow, Jr., New York University College of Medicine. "Salsbury Cove and Chemical Warfare."

SENIOR INVESTIGATORS

- Dr. W. P. Anslow, Jr., New York University College of Medicine.
Study of the effect of benzylguanidine upon tubular secretory capacity in the dog.
- Dr. William Cole, Rutgers University. Blood proteins of the lobster.
- Dr. Dale Coman, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.
The effects of calcium on the cohesiveness of the dividing sand dollar egg.
- H. J. Facio, Temple University. Effects of various agents on the cleavage of the sand dollar egg.
- Dr. Roy P. Forster, Dartmouth College. Water balance studies on fish with varying degrees of glomerular development.
- Dr. J. T. Halsey, Tulane University. Effects of sex steroids on fish.
- Dr. Warren H. Lewis, The Wistar Institute.
- A. R. Memhard, Sutton Island, Me. Cleavage of the sea urchin eggs.
- Dr. Dwight E. Minnich, University of Minnesota.
vide 1949.
- Dr. W. A. Robbie, University of Iowa.

- Robbie, W. A. 1948. Some correlations between development and respiration in the sand dollar egg, as shown by cyanide inhibition studies. J. Gen. Physiol., 31:217-232.
- Dr. J. R. Schramm, University of Pennsylvania.
Regional flora.
- Dr. W. F. Sheldon, University of Pennsylvania.
vide Coman.
- Dr. L. G. Wesson, New York University.
vide Anslow

ASSISTANTS

Gardiner Fay, Harvard University
A. S. Lovell, New York University
Peggy Maier, New York University
Elizabeth Parist, The Wistar Institute